Kansas State Agricultural College, and Experiment Station.

Manhattan, Kan.,

March 16, 1911.

Mr. C. Ernest Funk,
Meade, Kansas,

Dear Sir:—

Your letter of March 6th, relative to a Demonstration Farm in Meade County, has been referred to me for reply. I wish to state that this it is not the policy of the Experiment Station to establish Demonstration Farms except in accordance with the law on this subject which was passed by the Legislature two years ago. However, we have limited funds at our disposal for co operative experimental work in every county in the state.

We are going to do some work for this year in your county and are now hunting for actual farmers, living on farms, with whom to work. If you are interested in this matter, here is just the thing you have been looking for. Take it up and push it. We want to test broom corn in order to improve yield and quality of the brush. We want to increase the production of Milo per acre, and try out some new varieties of kaffir and grain production.

If you can refer us to good reliable men in that county, we assure you that this thing will be started there at once. Yours Truly,

H. H. Leidigh,

Assistant Professor of Crops.
